APPALACHIAN REGIONAL HEALTHCARE

the name you know | the compassion you deserve | the care you trust

the name you know
the compassion you deserve
the care you trust

The not-for-profit Appalachian Regional Healthcare (ARH) system has been designated repeatedly as one of the most highly integrated healthcare networks in the nation based on its ability to provide the communities we serve a wide-range of services through its network of health facilities, virtually eliminating residents' need to leave the area for healthcare.

The ARH system of 10 hospitals, clinics, pharmacies, home health agencies and home medical equipment stores are working together to improve the overall quality of life as well as the level of healthcare available in Central Appalachia.

ARH Mission

To improve health and promote well-being of all the people in Central Appalachia in partnership with our communities.

ARH Vision

To earn the confidence and trust of the diverse communities we serve by offering healthcare excellence, delivered with compassion in a timely manner.

ARH Values

Excellence, Compassion, Safety, Teamwork, Inclusion, Professionalism

History

In 1956, the United Mine Workers of America dedicated 10 modern Miners Memorial Hospital Association (MMHA) hospitals in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

The MMHA hospitals were purchased by the non-profit Appalachian Regional Hospitals in 1963, and changed its name in 1986 to Appalachian Regional Healthcare to more accurately describe its far-ranging services.

ARH Foundation for Healthier Communities

WHY WE WERE ESTABLISHED

Since our early beginnings as the Miners Memorial Hospital Association, Appalachian Regional Healthcare has remained committed to our mission in the mountains.

The ARH Foundation for Healthier Communities was established in 2006 as a fundraising arm for the not-for-profit ARH system and to address the growing healthcare needs in communities that traditionally rank lower than average in major health statistics.

As a charitable, tax-exempt 501c(3), the Foundation offers a unique opportunity to invest in the health and quality of life of those living in our Central Appalachia communities.

An investment in ARH is truly one that offers a lifetime of rewards by enhancing healthy lifestyles and saving lives.

FOUNDATION PROJECTS: $47 million Joe Craft Tower on the campus of the Hazard ARH Regional Medical Center

ARH Today

Today, ARH is a $1.7 billion health system operating 10 hospitals, multi-specialty physician practices, home health agencies, home medical equipment stores and retail pharmacies.

ARH employs nearly 5,000 people with an annual payroll and benefits of $297 million generated into our local economies. ARH also has a network of more than 600 active and courtesy medical staff members.

ARH is the largest provider of care and single largest employer in southeastern Kentucky and the third largest private employer in southern West Virginia, and is consistently recognized for its medical excellence.

ARH Partnerships

These partnerships deliver the highest quality healthcare and state-of-the-art equipment to the residents of Eastern Kentucky:

UK HealthCare Gill Heart Institute

UK Markey Cancer Center Network Affiliate
for oncology services in Hazard, Harlan and Tug Valley

UK Stroke Affiliate Network

Mountain Comprehensive Health Corporation

Manchester Memorial Hospital

ARH FOUNDATION MISSION

To further healthcare, education and community involvement in Eastern Kentucky and Southern West Virginia through philanthropy and fundraising for Appalachian Regional Healthcare.

The ARH Foundation wants to make it simple for you to make an investment in the future of healthcare in Eastern Kentucky and Southern West Virginia.

Community support is vital to our rural healthcare system to maintain the latest technology, quality facilities and services that have made ARH a regional healthcare leader.

In the summer of 2014, Hazard ARH celebrated the opening of the Joe Craft Tower, which added 100,000 square feet to our medical center, making it the largest hospital in Eastern Kentucky.

The Joe Craft Tower is a three-story patient tower that includes a 24-bed emergency department, a dedicated 16-bed cardiac critical care unit, 34 private rooms, and a new helipad to facilitate safer and timelier air transports to and from the facility. Detailed planning went into giving the Joe Craft Tower the most patient and care-giver friendly design possible.

DATINA RUSSELL, OB patient who gave birth to her first baby

“When I arrived at my local ARH hospital, the OB staff was very caring and attentive, making sure I was comfortable. The anesthesiologist gave me an epidural and never left my side. While my doctor was on his way to the hospital, the nurses closely monitored me and my baby.

When my baby’s heart rate started dropping and my blood pressure went up, I got scared; but my doctor assured me that everything was going to be fine. When they did a C-section, the staff explained what I was feeling and experiencing, which helped me so much. Their response time was excellent, within 30 minutes my beautiful and healthy little boy Shaun was born.

I am so grateful to the ARH OB staff for taking such good care of me and my baby Shaun.”

DOYLE HALCOMB, Injured police officer who needed occupational therapy

“When I came to ARH Rehabilitation, I couldn’t even touch the tips of my fingers to my thumb on my left hand. After working with my occupational therapist for a few sessions, it was so amazing when I was able to move my fingers and then my wrist.

I continued to make progress each week, regaining strength and mobility in my left hand and arm; and after several months of aggressive therapy at ARH, I achieved two major goals: getting back into my police cruiser and going back to the shooting range.

Thanks to the staff at ARH Rehabilitation, I am mobile again.”
